Speakers

Sue Harrington

Sue came to know Jesus when she was 17 and it changed everything! Instead of telling God what He was allowed to be like, she searched God's word so that He could tell her what He was like and how to live in His world. She now loves to share God's word with others and wants everyone to know how kind and powerful God is. Sue is married to Paul who is a church minister and she counts it a great blessing to serve and fellowship with God's people. She has three married children and a growing number of precious grandchildren. Sue has a legal background and works part time running a small business educating lawyers and doctors in risk and practice management. Sue says, "When I teach publicly or mentor privately, my great desire is to help people take hold of God's truth and let it transform their daily lives".

Jenny Willetts

I love Jesus and people. Those two loves have led to the role I have today – leading Stable One. I am a born 'driver' with, I suspect, an unusual aptitude for administration. I am enthusiastic, a visionary and like to get stuff done. My early career was as a PA in local government and I have since studied theology and worked in Papua New Guinea and Australia with Wycliffe Bible Translators. I have literally followed God around the world and am often surprised at the roles He's given me. I find it a privilege and joy to see the Church on mission together, finding ways to offer practical help to some of our most vulnerable 'neighbours' and am constantly challenged and changed by the people I meet in the course of my work. I relax by reading, gardening, cooking and spending time with family and friends.
